Airports

DMD Media Wall treats travellers to the gift of a really good read.

In decades delivering media services to airlines on the ground – in lounges, at gates and direct to aircraft – we’ve learned to meet the unique needs of airports too.

DMD is a known and proven supplier at UK terminals and many major international airports worldwide, and our airside operations carry the assurance of a consistent and responsive media aggregator service.

As the pioneer of departure gate and premium lounge press services to airlines on the ground, DMD has an established airside infrastructure at airports across Europe and globally. That has enabled us to extend our delivery resource to serve airport terminal operators also.

We know passengers are vital airport customers and that what pleases them will please your airline clients too. Many major airports see DMD Media Wall as a great way to welcome them with the free gift of a really good read for the flight.

Airside Lounges - Print

We give airside lounge operators just the right publications offer for their customer profile.

In decades delivering media services to airlines on the ground – in lounges, at gates and direct to aircraft – we’ve learned to meet the unique needs of airports and independent lounge operators too.

We deliver a unique and affordable media service for airside lounges around the world.

-  Newspapers and magazines
-  Print and digital formats
-  Content and end user platforms
-  Global service support network
-  Central account management

Our premium print offer for lounge operators covers daily newspaper and magazine provision targeted to the tastes of a first and business class profile. In one cost-effective, streamlined service your local DMD team can manage:

-  Publication sourcing
-  Onsite stock control
-  Commercial deals
-  Airside logistics

Our network is global, with airside accreditations at airports around the world, but our operations are managed by local experts with the specialist knowledge and contacts to manage bespoke solutions and consistent service.
